

Distribuidores Automáticos de Bebidas y Alimentos, S.A.U. (hereafter, DABA) makes available to interested parties the Ethics Channel for any query or complaint, guaranteeing the maximum confidentiality in the processing of the same.

You declare that the data provided are true, accurate and conform to reality. In case of false or malicious report, you may be subject to the measures deemed appropriate. This Channel will not be used to manage or deal with communications that are not related to its purpose (such as the following administrative issues, among others: receipt of CVs, billing management, commercial proposals, etc.).

DABA will process the personal data provided through the Ethics Channel in order to manage the queries or complaints, as well as, when applicable, to carry out the actions and inquiries necessary for the investigation of the facts that are the subject of this and to determine, as the case may be, whether there has been an infringement or irregularity and, where applicable, to adopt the relevant disciplinary measures. The legal basis of the processing is the public interest for the investigation of acts or conduct that could be contrary to the applicable regulations or the principles established in the Code of Ethics.

We inform you that your data will not be transferred, sold, rented or otherwise in any other way made available to any third party, except to those suppliers of DABA for the tasks of service provision (such as sending communications, services IT, etc.). Likewise, if necessary, your data may be made available to Courts and administrative bodies or Authorities with competence in the matter.

Given the purposes of the processing, DABA is legally obliged to keep your data for the duration of the prescription period of the corresponding legal actions without prejudice to your right to request the limitation of the processing.

You may exercise your rights of access, rectification, deletion, limitation of processing, data portability and opposition to the data processed in this Ethics Channel by sending an email to casebox@daba.es with the reference "Personal Data". You may contact our Data Protection Officer by e-mail: dpo@daba.es. You may exercise your right to claim to the competent control authority at www.aepd.es.
